CHAIRMANS REPORT

Kevin Hayes
Chairman of the Board

Good morning, everyone, and welcome to the 48th Annual Meeting and Awards Ceremony of the Blackstone Valley Chamber of Commerce.

As Chairman of the Board, it is a privilege to look around this room at Pleasant Valley Country Club and see the business owners, civic leaders, educators, and municipal partners who give this region its extraordinary strength.

Our theme today is Philanthropy and Community Impact and if there is one lesson the 2025-2026 year taught us, it is that strong communities don't wait for favorable conditions; they create them together.

I want to speak candidly for a moment about the governance and financial landscape we navigated this past year. Following transitions in the state administration, the Chamber was unexpectedly shut out of several long-standing state funding channels that had historically supported our regional initiatives. For a regional chamber, losing anticipated state funding is a serious test. We were essentially told we had to reintroduce ourselves, start from square one, and prove the return on investment of our work to a brand-new regime.

That is where true leadership and board governance matter most. Under Jeannie Hebert's relentless advocacy and backed by a united Board of Directors, we didn't retreat. We went to work. We engaged directly with our state legislative delegation, demonstrated the measurable economic impact of our programs across our eleven towns, and proved our value in spades.

Today, I am proud to report from the Board's perspective that our fiscal foundation and momentum are stronger than ever. Thanks to that bipartisan legislative partnership, we are actively distributing over $200,000 in direct grants to local small businesses, and we have secured more than $200,000 in additional dedicated funding to fuel regional economic development and workforce initiatives. That is over $400,000 flowing right back into the Blackstone Valley.

This Chamber is growing, innovating, and punching far above its weight class and none of this happens by accident. It happens because dedicated regional leaders volunteer their time, expertise, and integrity at the board table to guide this organization forward.

YEAR IN REVIEW

Jeannie Hebert
BVCC President & CEO

Today marks my 18th year as President and CEO of the Blackstone Valley Chamber of Commerce. While 2025–2026 tested our grit with state administration transitions, we didn't just survive, we came roaring back!

With over $400,000 in grants and economic development funding flowing back into our Valley and 50+ new member businesses joining this year, the word is out: the BVCC is the place to be. We are not fluff, we are the real deal.

This year, we celebrated entrepreneurship with ribbon cuttings across our towns, connected you with decision-makers at Love Your Legislators, candidate forums, and sessions with Massport CEO Rich Davey, Congressman Jake Auchincloss, and Education Secretaries Pedro Martinez and Steve Zrike, and drove innovation through our 26th Home & Community Expo, AI Business Leadership Summit, and BV Hub workforce training. From our Women's Success Network Spring Dinner and Yellow Tulip Project to Ladies on the Lake, Steamers at Sunset, and our 37th Charity Golf Tournament, our networks fired on all cylinders.

None of this happens without our mighty team: Programs and Events Director, Kristen Kearnan, Membership Manager and Administrative Assistant, Kelley Marathas, Bookkeeper and Grant Writer extraordinaire Melissa Kane, and Sarah Lawson keeping marketing humming. And when we tell your story, people tune in, Facebook views jumped 247% to over 467,000, Instagram topped 183,000 views in 90 days, and our weekly newsletter reaches 3,260+ contacts at a 43% open rate.

Every board I sit on and every event we convene comes down to one truth: you are why we exist. I love this job, I love this Valley, and I love working for you! Congratulations to today's honorees, here's to an extraordinary year ahead!

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AWARD

PRESENTED BY: MARY KRUMSIEK, CHAIRPERSON, MILLBURY SELECT BOARD

Keith Havalotti

Born and raised in Millbury and graduated from Millbury High School in 1994 where I played football and baseball. I went on to college at Lynn University in Boca Raton, Florida where I graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration. In 2000, I started my career as a financial advisor with MassMutual from 2000 to 2005, and then on to MetLife until 2010. I went independent in 2010 and from there I have built a financial practice named Blackstone Financial Services located in Millbury. I provide retirement planning and advisement advice for clients. In 2015 I opened up Signature Ink, which is a printing shop where we do custom apparel for businesses, schools, and individuals. In 2020, I purchased the St. Charles Hotel, a local bar in Millbury. In 2024, I started Direct Hit Capital in which we buy and refurbish houses to then sell. In 2026, I purchased Christopher's Ice cream which we renamed Blackstone Creamery, located in Millbury. Blackstone Creamery serves up delicious, homemade ice cream made with rich, creamy and irresistible flavors, offering a little taste of sweetness in every scoop.

VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR AWARD

PRESENTED BY: JEANNIE HEBERT, PRESIDENT & CEO, BVCC

Kham Inthirath

Compound Effect

For 20 years, Kham Inthirath has been driven by a single question: How do businesses truly grow? His career has proven that lasting success is never about a single tactic, it is about building the entire system.

As Founder and President of Compound Effect, Kham serves as a strategic bridge between business vision and modern technical capability. Having scaled his agency into a 52-person global ecosystem and advised organizations ranging from VC-backed startups to major enterprises, he brings a founder's empathy and sharp systems-thinking to unify teams and deliver real results.

Kham's leadership is deeply shaped by his remarkable personal journey as a first-generation immigrant, a former Buddhist monk, and a devoted husband and father of four. Those experiences instilled in him a philosophy rooted in human connection, purpose, and mindful action. Guided by the principle, "If you aren't uncomfortable, you aren't growing," Kham champions the belief that emerging technologies like artificial intelligence should amplify human potential, never replace it.

In the Blackstone Valley, Kham is far more than a visionary entrepreneur, he is a trusted advisor, generous mentor, and tireless champion for our local business community. Serving on the Blackstone Valley Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, he consistently steps forward whenever guidance or innovation is needed, helping launch our Business Leadership Summit Series on AI so small business owners can compete and thrive in a rapidly changing world.

For his extraordinary generosity, steady counsel, and unwavering commitment to lifting others up, we are proud to honor Kham Inthirath as our 2026 Volunteer of the Year.

Chris Whitten

Chris Whitten is the founder and broker/owner of Premeer Real Estate in Uxbridge, MA & Smithfield, RI. Chris and his team help families navigate selling and buying homes while building stronger communities. As president of the Premeer Gives Back Foundation, he leads efforts that have provided the helping hands, advocating voice and charitable funds to over 50 local charities. Inspired by his love of family and community, he recently created the How Can I Help? movement and podcast to promote intentional kindness and inspire others to make a positive impact in our everyday lives.

Briana Azier

Briana Azier, MBA, is the proud owner and founder of Bri's Sweet Treats, an award-winning candy company with locations inside the Worcester Public Market and the DCU Center, where you can find her signature purple candy cart.

Her business is known not only for its handcrafted creations, but also for its commitment to giving back, supporting local nonprofits and community organizations throughout the year. A proud Clark University alumna ('05) and member of the Clark University Alumni Council, Bri mentors entrepreneurs, high school students, and Clark students alike, leading with purpose, resilience, and a deep dedication to community.

At the heart of everything she does are two beliefs: Giving Is Sweet, and collaboration over competition.

Chris Mahoney-Pick

Chris Mahoney-Pick is the Owner and Head Roaster of Stay Awhile Coffee, a woman-owned, small-batch coffee roasting company she founded in 2023 with a simple belief: great coffee brings people together.

After leaving her corporate career as a pharmaceutical biochemist in search of better work-life balance, Chris turned her longtime coffee roasting hobby into a business. Combining her love of science with a slightly obsessive attention to detail, she traveled to San Francisco for professional roasting training before launching Stay Awhile Coffee from the basement of her Northbridge home.

Since moving to Northbridge in 2019 with her wife, Lauren, and their children, Wes and Mays, Chris has made community involvement a priority, serving as PTA President and volunteering with Northbridge Youth Soccer and Softball.

For Chris, Stay Awhile Coffee has always been about more than what's in the cup. Mental health awareness, connection, and creating a welcoming space where everyone feels they belong are at the heart of everything she does.

Now, with her first brick-and-mortar coffee shop and roastery on Church Street in Whitinsville nearing completion, Chris is excited (and maybe a little exhausted!) to bring that vision to life.

She is quick to acknowledge that none of it would have been possible without the support of her family, friends, and community. After showing up for her community, having that same community show up for her has made this journey a full-circle moment.

STAY AWHILE COFFEE
Enjoy a cup, stay awhile.

And, of course, none of it would have happened without a little stubbornness and a whole lot of coffee.

ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP AWARD

PRESENTED BY: SENATOR RYAN FATTMAN

Nick Socrat

Nick Socrat is a graduate of UMass Amherst, Stockbridge School of Agriculture. His degree is in Sustainable Food and Farming. He is the owner and operator of Douglas Orchard and Farm, LLC and lives on the property with his wife Leeann. His team also includes his parents and together they have made this an enduring family venture. Farmer Nick has spent years studying how plants, fungi, insects, vertebrates, and bacteria interact, and that understanding shapes his integrated approach to orchard and farm management. The result is healthier soil, fewer pest problems, and strong yields with minimal chemical inputs.

Douglas Orchard & Farm

Kind of when our family purchased Douglas Orchard & Farm, LLC in January 2016, the property was at risk of being cleared for a housing development. Instead, we chose to preserve the historic agricultural land. Restore it as Douglas Orchard & Farm, LLC. Initially the property was in such disrepair that we needed to responsibly get a bill of laden for all the pesticides and oils. And fertilizers that had been left there. We completely cleared out all the barns and spaces and started fresh. We have removed invasive bittersweet and continue to trim the blueberries and apple trees to where they are now producing abundantly. We have introduced solar power and installed two new wells, one irrigation and one for the house. All the buildings have been renovated and we are in a position to continually welcome the thousands of people that come to the orchard and farm.

Denise Brookhouse

KOOPMAN LUMBER & HARDWARE

Denise Brookhouse is the CEO of Koopman Lumber and a lifelong advocate for the Blackstone Valley community. A graduate of Calvin College with a degree in Accounting, Denise began her career in public accounting with Rehmann Robson, where she earned her CPA designation, before joining the Internal Audit Division of Herman Miller.

In 1996, Denise and her husband, Tony, returned to Massachusetts with their first son and both joined Koopman Lumber. Over the next 30 years, Denise served as CFO before becoming CEO in January 2026. Together, Denise and Tony raised their four children in Whitinsville.

Denise has dedicated many hours to organizations throughout the region, serving as a Trustee of Whitinsville Christian School, a board member of the Whitin Community Center, a board member of the Milford Regional Medical Center, and currently on the Community Board following its merger with UMass Memorial Health. She also serves on the Board of UniBank for Savings, is a Corporator of the Greater Worcester Community Foundation, and is an active member of Pleasant Street Christian Reformed Church.

Heather Elster

WCC
Fitness. Family. Community.

Heather Shaw Elster of Sutton, Massachusetts, is a dedicated community leader and non-profit executive who serves as Executive Director of the Whitin Community Center (WCC) in Whitinsville, Massachusetts. Since joining the organization in 2006, Heather has played an important role in its continued growth and development, helping advance its mission of promoting health, wellness, recreation, and community engagement throughout the Blackstone Valley.

As Executive Director, Heather oversees a leadership team that directs the center's operations, strategic planning, organizational development, marketing, communications, community relations, and fundraising efforts. Their leadership supports a broad range of nnovative programs and services designed to bring people together, including fitness and wellness activities, youth programs, childcare, summer camps, and community outreach initiatives for over 100 years.

Heather and her team are committed to having a meaningful impact on the communities they serve and helping ensure that the center remains an accessible and welcoming resource for individuals and families of all ages and backgrounds for many years to come.

Before joining the Whitin Community Center, Heather worked with the Blackstone Valley Chamber of Commerce and spent 15 years as an information technology and business process improvement consultant. This combination of business experience, operational expertise, and community involvement has helped shape her approach to non-profit leadership and organizational growth.

Through her leadership at the Whitin Community Center, Heather continues to contribute to the vitality of the Blackstone Valley, helping sustain an organization that serves as an important hub for fitness, family activities, youth development, and community connection.
